

PRAISE FOR DMR

DMR tells a story about one man's journey into the world of mental institutions for the severely disabled, but it is mostly a novel of human dignity, with all of its frustrations, joys, heartbreaks, and hilarity. . . . Trask's novel strips away our pretensions and shows us the beauty of our imperfections.

—Harry Bruinius, author of Better for All The World

DMR Daniel Trask

an excerpt from the new novel available now from One Tiny Pizza Publishing

PUBLISHING GENIUS PRODUCES FORWARD-THINKING LITERATURE IN CHAP-FORMAT BOOKS. THE HANDBOUND BOOKS ARE LOVINGLY CRAFTED, PORED OVER AT EVERY STEP IN THE PROCESS, AND GENERALLY COST $4.

PUBLISHING GENIUS ALSO RUNS BALTIMORE IS READS, THE OUTDOOR JOURNAL. VISIT ONLINE AT WWW.BALTIMOREISREADS.COM.

DMR IS THE EIGHTH EDITION OF THIS PDF CHAPBOOK E-SERIES. VISIT THE WEBSITE FOR THE LATEST INSTALLMENTS.

SUBMISSIONS ARE WELCOME YEAR-ROUND. PLEASE VISIT WWW.PUBLISHINGGENIUS.COM/SUBMIT.HTML FOR DETAILS.

Daniel Trask was born in Brockton, Massachusetts in 1982. After receiving his bachelor's degree in biology from UMass Amherst in 2006, Daniel worked for the Massachusetts Department of Mental Retardation for six months. He currently resides in Brockton.

DMR is continued in a 319-page novel available from Amazon and www.otppub.com.

PUBLISHING GENIUS
604 S. Washington Ave.
Baltimore, MD 21231

Publishing Genius
BALTIMORE 2008

PG TPC 008
www.publishinggenius.com
Design by Adam Robinson
Copyright © 2008 Daniel Trask